FOREWORD

A senior class is the motivating force behind a school's achievement. We, the editors of the 1957 Manet, feel, as do many others, that North's Class of '57 has been distinctive in its spirit, in its attitude, in its accomplishments; we have tried to depict this intangible reality as best we could. We have, therefore, integrated the individual seniors into the design of our activity pages in order to emphasize The Senior at North.

MESSAGE

The Class of 1957, North Quincy High School, has proved itself to be meritorious in many and varied phases of school activities and has been a real motivating force for leadership and achievement in the school as a whole. It is apparent that ideals and substantial values are in the forefront of the minds of these graduates, many of whom will achieve honors and distinctions in keeping with the highest and noblest traditions of the school they represent.

The real meaning of "Manet" is "It Remains," signifying that the just efforts of worthy endeavors will not go unrewarded. The name of the school includes the very important and meaningful word "North" which to many brings to mind Polaris, the North Star, that beacon light which has guided countless people to their haven of happy landings.

Thus the vast import of such great forces as these two is most challenging. Perhaps your editors and staff have in some way caught this significance, for truly the Class is marching forward and is a good influence for others to follow.

The entire faculty joins me in our best wishes for continued success, peace, and happiness.

DEDICATION

MR. JAMES S. COLLINS

During our six years at North he has been our guiding light: leading us, inspiring us. He has been our guardian, our advisor, our friend. His influence will continue to play a vital part in our future lives. In appreciation we dedicate the MANET for 1957 to our principal, Mr. James S. Collins, who has completed his last year as headmaster at North. We are sure that although he will be succeeded, he will never be replaced.

FOOTBALL

North Quincy's football squad, boasting several experienced returnees and eight seniors in the starting eleven, received a severe jolt even before the gridiron season started when star quarterback Eddie Deane suffered a severe leg injury in a pre-season scrimmage. Despite this loss, the Raiders fought a determined Stoughton team to a 6-6 tie in their official debut, with Kevin Mahoney turning in a fine two-way performance as Deane's replacement. The following Saturday Coach Donahue's boys used the dramatic pass-lateral play to advantage as they out-classed Rindge Tech, 25-0. The Raiders continued their winning ways by edging

Taunton, 12-6, in a game that featured the spectacular running of Larry McGee and the excellent all-around play of Jim Baldwin.

A second-half spurt enabled arch-rival Braintree to come from behind and grab a 20-14 decision. Doug Grutchfield, Jim Baldwin, Don Polvere, and Ralph Frazier were standouts in a losing cause. The following week an epidemic of fumbelitis ripped through both squads as North and Hingham battled to a 6-6 draw with the play of "Babe" Sweeney highlighting the action.

Not forgetting the stunning upset pulled by the Whiz Kids the previous season, the boys from North rolled over Milton to the tune of 27-7. Outstanding was the explosive running of George Doring. The next week the Red and Black surprised everyone by containing powerhouse Natick for three periods before bowing, 26-7. In this game the Raider line turned in its finest defensive effort, but lack of reserve strength wore the team down. Nevertheless, the boys bounced back to whip Dedham, 25-0, with Doug Grutchfield playing one of his finest games.

Then, with school spirit at its peak, the Raiders prepared to meet their inter-city rivals—the boys from Quincy. Seldom in the history of the Turkey Day series have the two clubs been more evenly matched, but in the end, it was the Presidents' more numerous legions that provided the edge as North bowed, 19-13. Doug Grutchfield was presented the Granville Memorial Trophy as the game's outstanding player.

All in all, it was a successful season, and the boys certainly provided their rooters with plenty of excitement.

BASKETBALL

With only one returnee from last year's outstanding team, the road looked rough for North's hoopsters. But, led by the phenomenal scoring of Captain Doug Grutchfield, the Raiders proved themselves a match for the toughest, as they compiled an excellent 14-6 record, and again qualified for the Tech Tourney.

After an opening-night loss to strong Natick, 58-51, Coach Mullarkey's boys roared back to trample Thayer, 70-43, with Grutchfield netting 31 points. They continued to roll by defeating Hingham, 44-31, and Mission, 69-56. In these games "Sonny" Scanlon demonstrated his superb ball-handling and steady defensive work. Grutchfield's 33 points led North to a come-from-behind 70-56 victory over previously undefeated Everett, and the surging Raiders grabbed their fifth straight from Archbishop Williams, 48-38.

The Red and Black became the victims of an upset as Weymouth's all-court press prevailed, 50-44, but the boys rebounded to smother Christopher Columbus, 73-24, and nip powerful Newton, 52-48. The Raiders were ready for Weymouth the second time around and took revenge by romping, 76-45, with Dick Mann's 30 points setting the pace. The boys again clubbed Thayer, 56-26, but lost an early lead and were defeated by a strong Brockton quintet, 66-56. In these games "Lefty" Fredrickson showed his defensive prowess by consistently blocking opponents' shots and grabbing numerous rebounds.

In one of the season's most exciting finishes, Mann's basket with five seconds left gave North a 39-37 victory over Braintree. North won the rubber game with Weymouth, 65-43, as Grutchfield pushed in 36 big points (3 short of the North record). and Arlington proved little trouble as the Raiders coasted, 60-44. Eddie Deane and Jim Baldwin were brilliant both offensively and defensively in this game. In a return match with Brockton the Raiders fared better, but were again defeated, 64-57. However, they came back strong to defeat Braintree twice more, 68-59 and 44-41, the latter being a thriller won by Mann's clutch foul shooting. This qualified them for the Tech Tourney, but the pressure finally took its toll as the team slumped to defeat against arch-rival Quincy, 58-52, and Portsmouth, N. H., 62-43.

In Tech Tourney preliminaries, North overpowered Malden Catholic, 58-38, but was eliminated after a hard struggle with a championship Lawrence Central team, 61-44. Doug Grutchfield finished his high school career with well over 1000 points, a record-breaker in North history.

HOCKEY

Get the puck out of there

Coach Laing's hockey sextet, hampered by a lack of weight and of boys, returned to the Arena for another season. Jack Cooke, Red O'Neill, and Bob Quintiliani were elected Co-Captains to lead North against their rivals. The Red Raiders received steady goal-tending from Tom Lloyd, a starter from last year's squad. Jack Cooke and "Butch" Travers turned in sparkling performances at defense; Red O'Neill, Bob Quintiliani, and Bob Direng composed the swift first line which kept the opposition constantly on guard; Charlie Neagle, Dave DeChamp, and Will Pitts provided a second line with plenty of hustle. With interest and desire North's puck-pushers did remarkably well for an undermanned squad.

BASEBALL

Although this year's team was not one of North's winningest, it certainly was no failure with regard to spirit and enthusiasm. With only four returnees from last year's varsity, there was plenty to learn, and every afternoon at the field one might have seen the squad doing just that, and practicing until early evening, under the direction of Mr. Forrest and Mr. Phillips, to try to better themselves. Not quite ready for the major leagues, these boys nevertheless deserved a medal for their outstanding efforts.

Soon after we trek back to school in September, we notice some of the hardier ones among us building up their wind for Cross Country, under the direction of Mr. Gentry. Because its season is overshadowed by football, Cross Country usually does not attract too much attention; however, this year we had a successful season, defeating Quincy, Milton, Rockland, and Walpole, while dropping meets to the powerful squads of Brockton, Weymouth, Braintree, and Needham. This fine showing boosted the hopes for Winter and Spring Track.

Winter Track started with a record number of candidates, and the team did well in the Metropolitan Track League. The Winter Track squad attracted many football boys, who strengthened the team greatly.

In March, the tracksters moved from indoor to outdoor practice. Under the direction of Coach Meaney the team was put into shape for the coming meets. They got used to running outdoors and practicing events not included in Winter Track. This year the Spring Track squad had prospects of being one of the best in North's history, because of the showing of Cross Country and Winter Track runners.

BOYS'

Anyone who ever ventured into the Body Mechanics room early Monday morning was probably very surprised to discover a group of boys hard at work practicing a brilliant repertoire of death-defying stunts. He would also have been very much astonished had he asked one of these athletes why the group was so energetic and businesslike: these boys willingly give up their time to help Mr. Rickson lead his junior-high gym classes, and to perform publicly at several occasions. As their name implies, the Student Leaders are being trained by Mr. Rickson to become real and successful leaders in all walks of life.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Never underestimate the power of a woman—with a basketball in her hand. This is a warning to the boys, for our girls have even begun to foster the idea of competing with the opposite sex for hoop honors. Those deadly four-to-three scores really wowed the fans who braved the slightly-off-center foul shots to watch these talented girls perform.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

AND DANCE COMMITTEE

Under the direction of Miss McCoy,
The Junior Class held its elections.
Careful choice by each girl and boy
Gave us the following wise selections:

Herbie Wood was chosen for president,
And Ed Simpson elected as veep.
For secretary Carole Meyer was sent;
Dave McGee made great profits to reap.

The Dance Committee provided the zest,
And all could see quite clearly
That the reason this class was one of the best
Was the officers' working so sincerely.

The Dance Committee makes plans

ALL-GROUP COUNCIL

One of the newest school groups, yet one of the hardest-working, is this elite organization composed of the presidents of the many school activities. Set up to aid the hard-pressed Student Council, this still-embryonic body has set before itself the enormous task of improving conditions throughout the school, notably the cafeteria dilemma and teacher-student relations. Bob Cuce has the confusing position of being President of the Presidents, but his and Mr. Roberts' main problem is to co-ordinate the group with the student body, and to make the All-Group Council a permanent force at North.

PROM COMMITTEE

One of the most memorable experiences in our senior year at North was the Prom. And to make this prom a success, our Prom Committee worked untiringly on an innumerable assortment of details. First they fought to put the prom under fashionable country-club lights; then they worked hard on invitations, orchestra, program, favors, and the many other necessities which all went toward making the Prom the best ever. Thanks to those who gave us help: to Mr. Collins, to our parents, to the School Committee; and thanks most of all to that hard-working and untiring group, the Prom Committee.

DANCE COMMITTEE

Dances are a necessary part of a school's social life. Our dance committees (so many signed up that committees were named for each dance) went to work and provided social life, and more: expertly organized dances, from disc jockey to decorations; bizarre and intriguing names with posters to match; and, a large supply of money to help run the Senior Class. Under the leadership of its chairmen (who, we are sorry to say, were the only ones who could appear in our formal picture) and the guidance of Mr. Donahue, the Dance Committee was another of the many successful facets of the Class of '57.

CLASS DAY COMMITTEE

Twenty-four hours is not much time for a class to go from childhood to adulthood, yet it's the job of the Class Day Committee to bring this to pass in one magic day. In the morning the seniors were as they once had been—kids in their playclothes with toys in hand; in the evening they were hardly recognizable: that well-dressed, mannerly group gathered together to eat, to dance, to listen to their futures as forecasted by classmates, and to gather up "Moments to Remember." Three cheers for the spirited, hard-working Class Day Committee!

GIRLS' CLUB

Give a hand to the girls! Shouting their motto: "The Girls' Club will live forever!", they toiled, struggled, and finally succeeded in saving this worthy ship from failure. They sailed on to reach new goals, from unbelievably successful service projects, to wonderful shows, to an outstanding February dance. With Miss Pratt as dependable skipper; Mary, Judi, Dotty and Linda at the helm; and a determined crew hard at work at all times; sails were billowing with enthusiasm and spirit from September to June. A co-operative faculty provided a beacon light, guiding the voyage which led to success at every port. And as we watched from the harbor, our girls carried the North banner through another successful and fruitful voyage.

"What? It's going to cost how much?"

This is the question commonly asked by poverty-stricken seniors as they are reluctantly dragged into Room 405 to make the final payment on their Manets. But little do they realize the long hours of hard work spent on the composing and production of this publication.

Hour after tiresome hour was spent by Co-Editors Lester Morss and Arthur Bearon, who completed layouts and write-ups for a large portion of the book and directed the Editorial Staff. Associate Editors Bill Denneen and Mary Greene worked untiringly on curricular and census pages; and Mary, in charge of the Typing Staff, was on constant call of all concerned with the yearbook.

Let us not forget our hard-working Business Managers, Bob Manning and Bob Cuce, alias The Bobbsey Twins, whose capable direction of the Advertising and Patron Staffs assured us of sound finances, and whose clever juggling of funds helped to keep the cost of the book at a minimum.

And last, but certainly not least, let us not forget our worthy advisor, Mr. Hoferty, who constantly spurred the Manet personnel on to greater achievements.

We all sincerely hope that you will enjoy owning the Manet as much as we have enjoyed editing it.

BAND

Versatility is the word for our scarlet-clad music makers, who may be seen at football games, parades, rallies, assemblies, and concerts. These merry individuals unflinchingly give their precious time to practice in the auditorium or on the field, and lend their bell-like tones and velvet chords to spark up every occasion. When Mr. Catin raises his baton, every (well, almost every) eye is ready; when he turns his back, every instrument spontaneously begins the Band's theme-song: "Mickey Mouse." Their long rehearsals are rewarded by the cheering on Thanksgiving Day, by the applause at the Spring Concert, and by the first-class rating at the long-awaited Music Festival.

DRUM MAJORETTES

Rehearsing for long hours after school, and performing with the Band at football games, are the high-stepping Drum Majorettes. They twirl their batons in formations from an "NQ" to an airplane, from an arrow to a boat! Under the direction of energetic, tireless Miss Gray, and the leadership of the four heads, our thirty-five smart steppers never looked better.

MIXED GLEE CLUB

Always an excellent and talented group, the Mixed Glee Club has provided recreation for many, and enjoyment for the whole school. And, under Miss Shres-tinian's able direction, our singers were better than ever. At Christmas and Easter assemblies, at the Spring Concert, and at the Music Festival, they performed beautifully and commendably. Month after month of tiring rehearsals were rewarded when the feeling of success was achieved after each performance of perfect musicianship.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Augmenting the Mixed Glee Club, and equally successful in its own performances was this vocal organization of girls who wanted to sing just for fun. But hard work and long rehearsals provided more than fun (of which there was plenty): the same feeling of success and achievement after a performance well done.

Future students beware! The teacher you have may be a graduate of Mr. Casey's Teachers' Career Club; and, if so, she has had plenty of practice in her vocation: she has met weekly with her fellow future teachers; she has planned activities for her group and has met with similar groups from other schools, and she has had plenty of practice by taking over junior-high homerooms. But, in reality, you, as her students, are lucky—this long experience makes her better able to do her job. You too should join this organization when you come to North!

NURSES' CAREER CLUB

Getting fixed up

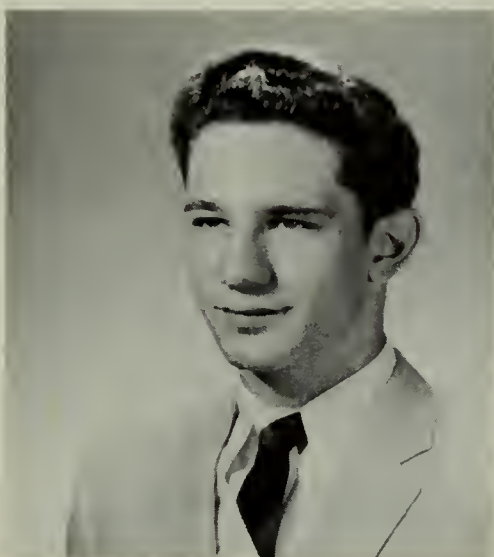

The future holds much for these enthusiastic Florence Nightingales. They've seen a little of what's in store: hospital tours, panels, films, helpful hints from a "mistress of etiquette," plus get-togethers with other women-in-white-to-be, and the annual picnic, all of which provided lots of fun (definitely!). What's behind all this feverish activity? It's the desire to decide their future calling—professional or practical nursing. Boys will soon be more than happy to get sick, just to be cared for by an ex-member of the N. C. C.

No one could ever realize the activity which went on in Miss Pratt's room Wednesday afternoons, unless he or she were fortunate enough to be a member of the Spanish Club. For these enthusiastic Spanish students discussed things Spanish, viewed slides of Spanish-speaking countries, attended Spanish plays, heard Spanish speakers, prepared a Spanish supper, and did everything else possible to improve their knowledge of Spanish life and customs. Learning and fun invisibly mingled as serious students became better acquainted with their Spanish and Latin American neighbors.

NORTH STAR

A nose for news and a puss for pictures

From idea, to dummy, to finished paper, the North Star gives N. Q. H. S.'s cub reporters a chance for a big headache. But don't let the complaining fool you for a minute—our journal is a pet project for all of us. It only takes a pencil, a pad of paper, and a big eraser to get out the latest issue of our paper, and to let the whole school in on what's going on.

Mother Nature grudgingly gives up her deepest secrets to these peeking lads and lasses; either in 424 or on a field trip, they can be found peeking under a leaf, over an aquarium, or into a microscope. They learn even more by inviting learned speakers to address them on matters of scientific importance, and by fabricating Christmas decorations from natural greens. And their findings are limited only by the scope of their imaginations and by the limits of their curiosity.

ATOMIC ENERGY CLUB

"...5...4...3...2...1..."

"Radioactive" is the password for a dozen fiery Einsteins who are planning to split the earth in two any day now. Mr. Rubin presides over this subversive group and directs them in activities ranging from the counting of geigers being emitted by their newest bomb, to the slide-rule calculation of the size of a proton.

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB

Electric bills at North rise sharply whenever our Modern Marconis start transmitting their shaky signals. Art, Bill, and the rest of the "hams" sit for hours on end transmitting and receiving such exciting messages as "dah-dit-dah-dit" and "dah-dah-dit-dah." Who knows—maybe they'll be talking to Mars some day!

Art calls Moscow

RADIO-T V CLUB

"... So, friends, go to Sam's Fish Market."

Early in May, a group of Northerners invade WJDA and assume control of its air waves for half a day. They send us a great variety of programs, from the usual news broadcasts to interviews with North's teachers. But this is only half the story: from September to June they practice and work with Miss McConarty to improve their skills, to discuss and criticize television programs, to visit broadcasting studios, and to plan several radio programs of their own. And by 1960 you'll be seeing familiar faces smiling at you through your TV screen!

SKETCH CLUB

Masterpieces in the making

Where would a Christmas or Easter assembly be without the efforts of the Sketch Club? Just leave these miniature Michaelangelos in a room alone with a stack of paper, a little paint, and a couple of used brushes, and you've got one of those inspiring masterpieces that enrich our assemblies. The "oo's" and "ah's" of the students when the Sketch Club's works are finally placed on stage fully reward the efforts of these workers.

DRAMATIC CLUB

"Begone with you!"

After many unsuccessful attempts in past years, the Dramatic Club finally became a reality—and a surprising one too, as dozens of enthusiastic members provided incentive. Mr. Evans had a hard job on his hands, but began to mold this organization into a permanent one at North, and to provide necessary experience to the many students interested in the field of drama. The continued interest of the members made for a successful year and a good start toward future successes for the Dramatic Club.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Examining the N.H.S. emblem

One of the greatest honors a student can receive is to be elected to this group. Scholarship, leadership, character, and service are the qualities for which the students are chosen and those which they are expected to live up to. These individuals are excellent examples of our successful citizens of the not-too-distant future.

RIFLE CLUB

"Think you can hit it from here?"

Almost any Wednesday or Thursday night the sound of rifle shots can be heard issuing from our range at the Squantum School. The silence is broken only by the intermittent firing of the rifles and the fateful message from Mr. Burgess: "Nipper bull at seven o'clock," or "Pinwheel, Bob." This year the team dropped a close game to Holbrook by three points, but came back and clobbered Braintree by thirty. The many girls in the club shoot on Wednesday nights, and they have proved themselves fine shots. Much of the credit goes back to Mr. Burgess, who worked hard molding this year's team. The future will hold many great seasons for him and his rifle teams.

M. P. O. C.

N. Q. H. S. Censoring Service

Lights! Camera! Action! And another class is enraptured through the efficient film-showing of the M. P. O. C. Under the supervision of Mr. Gentry, these mechanical lads learn how to operate the school's electronic and motion-picture equipment, and to control the auditorium lighting. Quietly and efficiently they provide invaluable help to the school, willingly giving up study periods to supervise films. The student audience has no complaints, except that they would appreciate a popcorn stand and Cinemascope!

LIBRARY STAFF

Among our unsung heroes are the hard-working girls of the Library Staff. From 8:15 to 3:30 they keep the library and social studies room in working order, assisting Miss Sherman and Miss Countie unselfishly. Any day, about 8:25 A. M., they can be seen in a typical activity—smothered under a monstrous pile of books. But don't worry; by 9:00 they have revived and are hard at work again.

RECEPTIONISTS

A smiling face is the wonderful reception that awaits a visitor to N. Q. H. S. All through the school day you'll find a pretty female sitting before the Trophy Case, waiting to receive our many guests. Be they strange or familiar, they'll always remember North even if it's only because of the hospitality of the Receptionists.

TRAFFIC PATROL

In struggling through one of North's crowded corridors, you may recall having encountered a battered individual standing in front of some stairway, with a horde of hurrying students pushing and shoving to arrive at their distant destination within the incredibly short time of four minutes. A tap on the back informed you either that you were erroneously heading upward on a down stairway, or that you had tried to sneak by the traffic regulator on his left side instead of on his right (a dreadful infraction of the rules). In reality these thirty strong-armed gendarmes are students authorized by the Student Council to perform their worthy tasks, and they do their work admirably in the face of an ever-increasing school population. No Speeding Allowed now that the Traffic Patrol is guarding the stairways.

Planning for Boys' Nite

"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, church, and community, high standards of Christian character" is the purpose of this organization. Combined with this more serious purpose is the ever-present one of enjoyment and fun, making for an all-round program of speakers, films, splash parties, dances, and service work. The excellent attendance at meetings is probably caused by the expectation of a ping-pong game with a favorite Hi-Y'er. And so meetings end with a perfect balance of an infrequent combination: accomplishment and enjoyment.

The bounce of the ping-pong balls at the Quincy "Y" announces the presence of our Hi-Y Club on Monday nights. These ambitious lads are pledged to help their community by doing their small bit in giving aid to those in need, especially to the girls of the "Tri." Their meetings start promptly at 7:30 or 8:00 (or even 8:30 sometimes) at which time they very formally discuss what little helpful deed they can perform next, or plan one of their famous splash parties. With a few parting words from their revered Chaplain they retire to the Youth Room to resume the games of ping-pong that were interrupted by the need of a meeting.

TISING

What is success? Rudyard Kipling has given us a figurative meaning:

"If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;

If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim, . . .

If you can fill the unforgiving minute

With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a Man, my son!"

—Kipling, If

In dealing with tangibles, we must consider success as the achievement of a goal. Still, as far as yearbooks are concerned, success means more than mere accomplishment of a purpose. A yearbook is a reminder, a historical record; an outstanding yearbook, however, is, in addition, a work of art—a book which in a limited space portrays the spirit of a closely-knit group of students. The question is whether we as editors have "dreamed" too much, or whether we have succeeded in producing a yearbook out of the ordinary. We hope the 1957 Manet lives up to at least some of our ardent expectations.

Yet how could this book ever have become reality without the guidance and assistance of so many: Mr. Hofferty, who worked untiringly to make it a success; Mr. Bleiler, who helped to give our book its design, as well as its beautiful photographs; Mr. Farnham, who ran to and fro as our link with Keller's; Miss Morrison and Mrs. Hannon, who graciously answered our every request; Bob and Bob, who solicited our pecuniary resources; Mary and Bill, whose great help we can never forget; and finally, our hardworking staffs—Editorial, Advertising, Patron, Typing—these were the unsung heroes. Our heartfelt thanks to all!
